Need But $12,779 to Gain E Bond Quota in Holland

Although Holland, Grand Haven and Zeeland have exceeded their war bond goals, Ottawa county as a whole with sales of $3,227,573 up to last night was $308,427 short of its $3,536,000 quota.

Holland, already more than a million dollars over its goal for sale of the eight types of securities, was only $12,779 short of its E bond quota on which special emphasis has been placed.

As of Wednesday night, E bond sales here amounted to $357,401 toward the quota of $360,180. Sales were broken down as follows: People's State bank, $158,744.50; Holland State bank, $146,475; post office, $41,268.75; Ottawa County Building and Loan, $10,912.50.

Zeeland was over the top with a total of $282,427.75, surpassing the goal of $278,000. E bond sales amounted to $141,181.25.

Grand Haven city purchased $158,975 worth of war bonds Wednesday which figure includes an individual purchase of $100,000 on the city's quota of $89,000. The total collection is now $1,025,000 which is $206,000 over its quota.

Grand Haven went over the top in its million dollar goal for the purchase of a new coast guard cutter to replace the Escanaba by purchasing $1,113,577.25 during August and September. This drive had been scheduled to continue until Nov. 1.

Frank M. Lieve, local bond chairman, today received an official communication from Walter Wade, executive manager of the U. S. treasury war finance committee of Michigan, extending the third war loan drive to midnight Saturday in honor of General Clark's fifth army before Naples.

Attention also was called to the special auction at 8:15 p.m. tonight in front of the Holland theater preceding the Bob Hope premier picture in which the two best seats of the house will be "sold" to the highest bidder. Junior Chamber of Commerce members also will be present to sell additional bonds at the door.

Among those counties "over the top" were Muskegon, Newaygo, Cheboygan, Isabella, Midland and Wexford. Dowagiac city also exceeded its goal.

Local Soldier Who Fought at Munda Says 'Keep 'Em Flying on Home Front'

"Keep them flying on the home front and we'll mow them down on the fighting front."

That was the parting challenge in a letter received here by The Sentinel from Pvt. Clifford E. Lighthart, 25, serving with a signal company in the Pacific.

Pvt. Lighthart served in the New Georgia offensive which brought high commendations to his company and his division.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Lighthart, 171 Fairbanks Ave., and was inducted May 24, 1942.

His letter follows:

Having received Sentinels almost all the time I've been overseas, (about one year when you receive this) I want to extend my appreciation for the joy I get from the local news. The papers arrive in bunches up to twenty at a single time, but I get all issues.

Up to a recent date, our censorship has been rather rigid. However, now we are free to tell many things and I do so to you in behalf of home town friends and neighbors.

We have recently finished the New Georgian campaign and the strain is considerably relieved. For close to six weeks we lived in foxholes braving air raids and Japanese snipers. We got very little sleep and the strain was enormous on our nerves. I am an infantry man but have been in actual combat.

On Rendova island we were in the first group ashore and, believe me, it wasn't any picnic we ran into. Japs were waiting there for us and we carried equipment ashore under fire. It was there I first saw a dead Jap. He had been shot in the shoulder; had his first and back out, but had been buried in the jaw to his finish. After that I saw plenty of dead and wounded Japs. They were no match for our boys.

I think the biggest obstacle to our forces was the jungle tactics of the Japanese. They played all sorts of tricks to harass at night and now they manage to get up to the top of these huge trees is still a mystery to me! The battle for Munda was our highlight. To those back home I wish to say that our combined air, sea and land forces moved along like an unscathed upon football team.

I marveled at the way the cooperation of the three branches laid flat every obstacle in its path. On New Georgia the Japanese had been entrenched for a long time. (It was said that the Nipponese were told they were on maneuvers. When American soldiers came, they were forced to fight.)

We were fortunate that they had little or no heavy field pieces. Their mortars and machine guns were exceedingly well entrenched in cave like dugouts. The dugouts were cut into the sides of hills and walled with coconut palm trees. There was just a little slit in front for the gun barrels and their entrance was in the rear. Some dugouts were so well built that they had another room off and below the run room. A small tunnel led from one to the other and the lower room was perfect for protection against anything but a direct hit. Not only that but also the dugouts were so well camouflaged that one had to get very close before it could be noticed.

Nevertheless, our forces laid everything flat. The hills looked as though a tornado had hit them. Very few trees had any foliage left; dead Japs were found in

Will Be Buried In Grand Haven

Grand Haven, Sept. 30 (Special)—Dr. Lawrence vanden Berg, 68, president of the New York State Teachers college at New Paltz, N. Y. since 1923, died Monday in his home in New Paltz. He received his master's degree from Columbia university and an honorary degree at Albany Teachers college in New York.

His wife died Sept. 11 and was buried here.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Hazen Hatch of Marshall and Mrs. George Woodruff of Battle Creek; a son, Capt. Lawrence H. vanden Berg, Jr., of Santa Ana, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. A. Traveling Clinic For Blood Plasma Here in October

Headquarters to Be in Hospital; Red Cross Is in Charge of Plans

Residents of Ottawa county will be given an opportunity to donate blood Oct. 11 through 15, it was announced at a meeting of county Red Cross officials and staff assistants Wednesday afternoon in the home of the county chairman, Mrs. J. E. Telling, at Sunset Terrace on Park road.

The Red Cross is cooperating with the Michigan department of health's blood plasma program in arranging the service here. According to present plans the traveling clinic will be in Grand Haven on the first day and in Holland the following four days.

Holland hospital will be used as clinic headquarters in Holland. Mrs. George E. Pelgrim, who heads the local plasma committee, announced. The hours will be 9 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 3 p.m., although one evening session may be substituted if it proves more convenient to donors.

Mrs. Pelgrim will be assisted in arrangements by the canteen committee headed by Mrs. Andrew Klomparsen, the staff assistants headed by Mrs. A. W. Tahaney, and the nurses aides headed by Mrs. J. J. Brouwer.

Persons between the ages of 18 and 50 may volunteer as blood donors, but the committee pointed out that those under 21 must have the written consent of their parents.

Already 50 employees of the Armour Leather Co. have volunteered their services and other organizations also have signified intentions of backing the program. The staff calls for 65 volunteers a day which means that Holland must line up approximately 260 donors. Volunteers may register at the local Red Cross office 6 East Eighth St., at any time.

A certain percentage of the blood will be returned to the local hospital and the remainder will be stored in Lansing.

Zealand donors will work through the Holland program. Mrs. Pelgrim pointed out. The traveling clinic will consist of Dr. A. B. Mitchell, state health department technician, and four nurses.

In other business at Wednesday's meeting, each division chairman reported on activities. Since Ottawa county has duplicate assignments in the northern and southern halves, ideas were interchanged and valuable suggestions were given. Miss Beth Marcus, executive secretary, reported on an executive conference she attended last week in Saginaw.

About 50 Red Cross officials and staff assistants were present. Tea was served with Mrs. John Boonstra of Zeeland Mrs. William Hutton of Grand Haven and Mrs. C. M. Selby of Holland pouring. The canteen service assisted in the dining room.

RESIGNS POSITION

Grand Haven, Sept. 30 (Special)—Miss Charlene Ter Avest of Hudsonville, who has been employed in the Ottawa county treasurer's department for the last 10 months resigned her position, effective today.

Pvt. Clifford E. Lighthart could be put into them! And they were in coral, too, which is quartz-like and very hard.

On the Russell's we witnessed only a few bombings. The island was virtually three-quarters coconut plantation and the rest jungle. We lived fairly comfortably there except we were drenched in torrents of rain. On New Georgia it rained intermittently about every other day. We lived in mud, intense heat and continual rains. In New Caledonia it was very hot and muggy.

The flies and mosquitoes were terribly thick! We witnessed no Nipponese trouble there. We were on Guadalcanal only a short time. The place has been considerably Americanized. In New Zealand we found heartwarming hospitality. Friends took us off the streets to their homes and service clubs. They made us feel right at home and no soldier talks without praise for the New Zealanders.

Their service men enjoyed chatting with us and beamed with joy when we gave them American cigarettes. Those poor people were feeling the rationing a great deal more than Americans. New Zealand is a beautifully rich, agricultural country. It has a climate similar to northern California—hot days, cool nights. It is truly a marvelous country with most cordial people.

To my knowledge there has been no other local lad in the New Georgia campaign. My efforts to locate any Hollander has been fruitless.

Keep 'em flying on the home front and we will 'mow 'em down' on the fighting front. Best wishes for continued success of The Sentinel and happiness to all those in our beloved town.

Flyer Grandson Of Fennville Man Afloat 22 Hours

Lieut. Overend Bails Out Near Italy When Gasoline Supply Fails

Fennville, Sept. 30 (Special) — According to word received here, First Lieut. Walter J. Overend, 23, Chicago, grandson of A. C. Guilfoili of Fennville, who holds the distinguished flying cross and other medals for shooting down three enemy planes, is again flying with his Spitfire squadron in the North African area after spending 22 hours afloat in his dinghy off the Gulf of Salerno.

Overend had been patrolling over the Gulf of Salerno beaches, protecting shipping and ground troops Sept. 13 when his plane ran out of gas. At 7,000 feet he started bailing out. The lines of his parachute tangled inside the cockpit as his ship started down, with Overend unable to reach the controls. It fell to within 500 feet of the water when luckily the lines slipped clear, the parachute opened, and Overend hit the water almost at the same moment as his plane crashed into the sea in front of him.

The officer swam to his plane and pulled out the rubber boat before the Spitfire sank. Meanwhile, his squadron mates circled overhead to mark the spot and then returned to their base, while a new night flight came out to watch over the pilot until darkness came.

There was little sleep that night for Overend. He was all cramped up in that dinghy. Dawn came and found him drifting. He could hear the searching planes but apparently they could not see him. Paddling desperately, Overend reduced the drift and eventually got within five miles of the Italian coast, where his air comrades again sighted him.

The landing craft which rescued Overend landed him on the Salerno beaches near the British infantry shortly after noon the next day. From there he caught a ride back, reaching his base three days later.

Overend has been flying in Africa and Sicily since the start of the campaign, being in more than 100 missions.

Quits Printing for Farming After 55 Years of Service

At 5 p.m. Friday, William Klaasen, 66, route 5, ended more than 55 years of work in the printing world and today was prepared to settle down and manage his 14-acre "farm" located about a half mile east of the Baker Furniture plant on 24th St.

Mr. Klaasen made this decision because his youngest son, Lloyd, 20, who has been caring for the seven cows and the crops will leave Wednesday to enter the army. Young Klaasen had previously been deferred for six months because of his farm work. This is the second son to enter service. The other is Pvt. Willis Klaasen with the infantry at Hyder, Ariz.

Mr. Klaasen got his first printing job at the age of 10 with the old religious publication, De Hope, which was published in a shop on College Ave. He does not remember just what date he began work. When Graves hall was built on Hope campus the De Hope building was moved a block over to Columbia Ave. About 15 years ago, perhaps longer, the building was remodeled into a modern college building. During his many years of service in the printing business, Mr. Klaasen has witnessed many changes in the progress of the printed sheet. When he first started work he swept floors and fired up steam for the press. At that time a Mr. Van Schelven was editor for De Hope under old Rokus Kanters. The Kamferbeek boys Albert Benjamin and Fred, also were connected with this business.

Mr. Klaasen continued in working for religious publications. When De Hope became less popular due to diminished use of the Dutch language, the printing concern published The Leader, Reformed church organ. This paper later merged with the Christian Intelligencer and is now published in Grand Rapids. However, the Klaasen Printing Co. where Mr. Klaasen has been employed since 1924 publishes the "Sunday School Guide" which is widely distributed among Sunday schools.

From steam press to gasoline to electricity and from hand setting to Linotype have been developments in printing that Mr. Klaasen has watched closely. He has been a jack-of-all-trades in the print shop and does everything including setting Dutch by hand or on the Linotype.

Born in Holland July 29, 1877, Mr. Klaasen married the former Cornelia Van Lier of Holland in 1901. They lived at 119 East 15th St. until 26 years ago when they purchased the present property on 24th St. They started with four acres but later purchased 10 acres from an adjoining estate.

At present Mr. Klaasen has seven cows, a team of horses and has been raising from 25 to 40 hogs a year. Throughout the years his family has been assisting in the farm work. Much of the land is planted with corn but the family also raises potatoes and a large garden.

The Klaasens have eight children. Ada at home. Join of route 6, Edward of route 5, Anthony of Holland, Mrs. Adolph Houtman of Ironton, Mrs. John De Graaf of Holland, and Willis and Lloyd. There are 13 grandchildren.

The Klaasens are members of Prospect Park Christian Reformed church where Mr. Klaasen served as elder in the consistory for seven years, retiring last year because of added duties on the farm. Before joining Prospect Park church where he helped to build, he was a member of Ninth Street church and in the early days Central Avenue church.

Other guests were Mesdames Marion White and Paul Camburn. Plans were made for the sophomore girls to meet at the Camp Fire rooms next Thursday at 7 p.m., when the group will be organized.

The Ho Ko Phi senior Horizon club met at the home of Dorothy Van Zoeren Thursday night. Louise Jonkman, newly elected president, presided. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at the home of Gwendolyn Lemmen.

The Lighthouse Fellowship club met Friday night in the home of Miss Julia Smith, 149 West 19th St. The theme of the meeting, "Prayer," was carried out in the song service, which was led by Miss Evelyn Beyer, and in the devotional period conducted by Miss Eva Meinsma. Miss Meinsma read a poem entitled "Prayer Changes Things." She also told of an actual prayer-changed experience and read the 34th Psalm.

The Rev. Frank Thatcher spoke on prayer and conducted a discussion on various phases of the subject. He also gave the closing prayer, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Smith.

(From Wednesday's Sentinel)

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Kiess went to Muskegon Saturday, she to remain with her daughter, Mrs. Cornell Bartels, two or three weeks. Mr. Kiess returned home Monday evening reporting that a baby son was born at Hackley hospital Saturday morning to Sgt. and Mrs. Bartels. The baby, their second, weighed six pounds and 12 ounces, but has not been named, awaiting word from the father, stationed in Texas. The little fellow will be noted for the patriotism of his uncles and father. Mr. Bartels is one of six brothers and a brother-in-law in service. Besides the Bartels uncles, there is also one on the mother's side, Tom Kiess, Jr., now fighting in New Guinea, before which he was in Australia several months. He is the only one of them yet in overseas duty.

Miss Betty Jean Keag has been spending the past week in Shelby, guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keag. She returned home Tuesday night with her father and uncle, John Keag, who were there that night to see Chester receive his third degree in Masonry. The two Keags, uncle and father of Chester, are past masters of the Masonic lodge here and without doubt would be invited to take some part in conferring the degree on their son and nephew, a courtesy often extended to visiting relatives of candidates.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chapman were Mr. and Mrs. Silas Grote and three sons of Vicksburg. Accompanying them were Mrs. Chapman's mother, Mrs. Irene Mentor of Kalamazoo.

Mrs. H. B. McCann visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Allen Snyder of Allegan, Friday and Saturday. On Saturday she attended a party at the home of Mrs. Carl Warner, which honored the birthdays of both Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Martin Foote.

Mrs. Milo Deleiden is entertaining her grandmother, Mrs. Wenstrom of Pullman, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crane visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Schofield, in Chicago a recent week-end. While they were there one of her sister's little girls was a patient in University hospital with infantile paralysis. Another child was feeling bad when they left for home, and they have since learned that all three of them have had it. Doctors at the hospital said it was the first time they had ever known of it affecting so many in one family. It is said that the part of the city in which they live has been especially stricken, and specialists have been assigned there to study the origin. A general spraying campaign has been inaugurated in an effort to stamp out the disease. It is expected that the Schofield children will recover with no crippling effects. The oldest child has been taken home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dorrance and son and daughter of Scotts were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dorrance Saturday night and Sunday.

A. B. Dorrance returned home Friday from Zanesville, O., where he had gone Monday in connection with his work.

Mr. Dickinson was given a two weeks' leave from his work in Muskegon and they spent the first week of it with their son, Norman, and family and Mr. Dickinson's brother, John Dickinson, and family in Basking Ridge, N.J. They were accompanied home by their little five-year-old granddaughter, Dawn Marie, who will visit them until her parents come to visit here later. John's son, Richard, is training in the air corps.

The occasion was observed quietly on account of Mrs. Ulbricht's failing health, at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. H. O. Westervelt. Besides the two daughters, they have three sons, Ralph of Sandusky, Mich., Henry of Torrance, Calif., and Jean of Washington, D.C. Ralph was the only son who could be present.

SIGNING THE PLEDGE:

1943 VERSION

In the olden days in the nineteenth century, when the battle against King Rum took on the proportions of a national crusade, "signing the pledge" was a popular institution. In such books as "Ten Nights in a Barroom" the climax of the story usually was the signing of the pledge, to the accompaniment of a ceremony and sometimes of a pageantry, that made millions almost hysterical with emotion.

Attempts are being made to revive the state of mind in sections of the American people that will make the signing of new pledges today as dramatic, and presumably as effective, as that activity was of old. But the pledge is not a weapon in the battle against King Alcohol; its objective is patriotism, or conservation of essential material, or success in a war bond drive, or what not.

There was for instance the recent attempt to persuade millions of motorists to sign a car drivers' pledge. The motorist set his name to a series of promises: he would never, no never, as heaven was his witness, drive over 35 miles per hour; he would have his tires inspected once a week; he would not try to buy gas without surrendering the appropriate coupons. And so on and so on.

You can just see a 1943 novelist trying to work up to the signing of such a pledge as the climax of his story! No matter how worthy the objective, that pledge just doesn't have what it takes, for any emotional appeal.

Or there is that other pledge signing campaign in which the school teachers of the nation were being asked to put their names to a document promising that they will "fight to a finish" and not relax their war efforts.
That pledge, it was believed by one county school commission,
"was urgently needed just now, with the prospect that teachers and students may relax their war effort" because of optimism.

Somehow all those pledges leave the heart cold. Even the old time pledge of the temperance rallies did not accomplish much. Those pledges of today are likely to be far more futile. A citizen who must be kept or made patriotic by getting him to sign a pledge isn't much of an asset to the American nation. And a driver who does not observe the rubber conservation regulations unless he signs a pledge is not too likely to do so after signing the pledge.

There is something curiously juvenile about this whole business of signing pledges; mentally grounp people do not need such props to temperance or patriotism or anything else. In the temperance drives an emotional debauch pumped some life into the ceremony but even that is hopeless in drives for observing the speed laws and such other objectives. The 1943 pledge signing drives appear to be almost the height of futility.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

President Roosevelt says:

"In this actual world a church-less community is a community on the rapid down-grade."

"Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the habit of feeling responsibility for others."

"Yes, I know all the excuses.
I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in man's own house, as well as in church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact, that the average man does not thus worship."

"He may not hear a good sermon at church. He will hear a sermon by a good man who, with his wife, is engaged all of the week in making hard lives a little easier."

Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday.

Jesus and the Ten Commandments—Matthew 5:17-20; 19:16-22; John 5:39, 40

By Henry Geerlings

The world long waited for a body of laws like the Ten Commandments. Nothing like them had even been assembled by the pagan nations. One may find hints and gleams of them here and there but it was only when God spoke that there was made available to man a body of legislation at the center of which He stood.

It is further to be said that they had never been interpreted with that clarity and spiritual perception which inhered in them until Christ came. His predecessors had been in the habit of giving them a legal unfolding. In their hands they became formal and burdensome and the people must frequently have wished to be delivered from them. So often merely outward observance was considered sufficient. This naturally resulted in a slavish obedience which made the work of Jesus difficult, for the reason that He found it necessary to remove this false conception before he could implant the true one which is spiritual. It was this situation which caused a barrier to be erected between Him and the leaders of His day.

It was frequently necessary for Jesus to warn His hearers lest they misunderstand what He was saying for it contrasted sharply with what they were being taught daily. Their teachers stood upon the surface while Jesus went to the center. They craved popular applause, while He sought the approval of His Father.

He assured them of His ortho-doxy with the simple statement that He honored the lawgivers and the prophets as much as they did, and that when He got through, their revelations of God would remain secure. He would not even cast reflections on the disclosures which had already been made. He intended to fulfill them by bringing out their deeper meaning, by obeying them even to the letter by pressing them home to the hearts of His hearers, and last but not least, by going to the cross to fulfill their least as well as their last requirement.

The word verily was frequently employed by our Lord to call special attention to what He was saying and to give it emphasis. It is strange and yet not strange that the apostles never made use of it. Jesus left no doubt as to the permanence of both His words and His influence. Amid the many things that change and even pass away, He declared that what He was saying would endure as the permanent possession of the race, and in these enduring words would be found the substance of what appeared to pass away. It is all in the larger and completed reality.

The Law cannot redeem us nevertheless it becomes the pattern and guide of a redeemed society. Personal obedience and service come first in our lives and then the art of teaching will follow as the night the day. We are taking a rather loose attitude toward the commandments today.
There are those who tell us that we are living in a lawless age. We boast constantly of our freedom.
We are free moral agents. There is apparently no one who can compel us to do what we do not want to do. This liberty which we have been endowed can so easily become license. But we cannot move in that direction with the consent of Jesus. The commandments cannot save us. They do not possess the key that will admit us to heaven. And what is more they cannot put within our hands the secret power of a good life.

The reply of Jesus to the rich young ruler may perplex us. At first thought it would seem Jesus meant the youth could obtain eternal life through his own efforts. It may also mean that if He really tried to gain life this way He would discover how impossible it is, and would be more disposed to seek it through faith in the living God. Here again we are to see how true it is that the Law is the schoolmaster to lead us to Christ who alone is able to bestow both faith and life.

The Scriptures apart from Christ will never bring us eternal life. That is not because the Scriptures are fallible and faulty, but because they do point to Jesus and proclaim Him as the only One through whom the gift of life is made available. Let us often remind ourselves that Jesus was not an afterthought someone brought into the Scriptures after all else had failed. He was in the picture from the beginning. It was He through whom the worlds came into being for the simple reason that He was in the beginning with God and He was God.

Encourage Planting of

Blueberries in Ottawa

Grand Haven, Sept. 30 (Special)

In view of the present great interest in the planting of blueberries in Ottawa county, County Agent L. R. Arnold predicts that the county will become a leading blueberry county in the next ten years.

A survey back in 1935 disclosed that there was good blueberry soil in the county and since that time Arnold has encouraged the planting of this crop. Harvests obtained by growers during the past two years have created a great stimulus, resulting in several sales of land for this purpose.

One of the most prominent blueberry growers is Frank Fendt, Port Sheldon township, who is just finishing a fine harvest from a seven-acre planting. At times he employed as high as 40 pickers. Harvest started in July and has since

Urges Nurses to Enlist in Service

"Twenty per cent of the soldiers who died in North Africa would not have died if enough Red Cross nurses had been there,"

Mrs. M. Pullen, state nurse consultant, told Ottawa county Red Cross officials Friday and Saturday when she conferred relative to furthering plans for recruiting registered nurses for the service.

She conferred with Miss Martha Allen of the Ottawa county department of health in Grand Haven, and Mrs. H. Hall, nurse at Holland hospital, who are the recruiting nurses for the county.

According to Mrs. Pullen, there has been an alarming decrease in the number of applications by nurses for service with the armed forces, a fact which she said should be disturbing to parents, wives, sisters and friends of all servicemen. She said it not only is a Red Cross problem, but a community problem as well.

The official recruitment agency in urging nurses to enlist said that communities must share more and more of the younger nurses now on civilian duty.
"Hospitals, doctors, industries must release the eligibles for war service. Retired nurses must become active again during the national crisis. Red Cross nurse's aides and women training in Red Cross home nursing must strengthen the home front," the agency said.

Holland

In 1913

About 50 people gathered in the City Rescue mission yesterday to when he was thrown into the side of a big semi-trailer truck at the

Varied Uses for Concrete Blocks

Van Voorst Brothers, concrete block manufacturers, have been supplying this city with concrete blocks for over 30 years. The company whose yard and plant are located at Columbia Ave. and 19th St., was organized in 1911 by Henry and Fred Van Voorst to furnish this community with a concrete block which "lasts a lifetime."

Since the death of Fred Van Voorst in 1935, his son, John, has taken over his share of the business which is still operating under the original name of Van Voorst Brothers.

In the past 32 years Van Voorst blocks have gone into a great number of buildings in this community and have withstood the ravages of time, proving there is nothing more superior in quality in building material than concrete blocks.

Now, in these war times when building is almost at a standstill, most of their business is repair work. Concrete blocks are especially useful in repairing of basements and porches. Water and frost do not damage them, and once placed, they will last indefinitely.

Lieut. Dronkers Sends Medal to Sister in City

Mrs. Henry Te Roller, 184 East Fifth St., has received the Order of the Purple Heart medal from her brother, Lieut. Cornie Dronkers of the navy, who was awarded the medal by the secretary of the navy "for wounds received in action against enemy forces in the Coral sea May 8, 1942, while attached to the USS Lexington."

The presentation of this medal was made to Lieut. Dronkers on board an unnamed aircraft carrier on which he is now serving.

Lieut. Dronkers, son of Mrs. J. Dronkers, 10 West 18th St., visited his home in Holland for a short period early in his year and then returned to the west coast Pacific for further carrier combat duty.

According to recent advices received by his sister, it is probable that he may soon return to the United States for new duty assignment. He has been in the navy more than 28 years.

Other sisters are Mrs. John Overway, Mrs. John Slighter, Mrs. Albert Bouwman and Mrs. John Nyland of Holland and two brothers, William of Grand Rapids and Frank of Chicago.

The Lexington was lost in the action in May, 1942, following a heavy attack by more than 100 enemy torpedo planes and dive bombers, but not until she had turned back an attempted Japanese advance on Australia. Lieut. Dronkers was seriously injured as the result of a bomb hit. Following orders to abandon the sinking carrier, he was picked up by a rescuing destroyer. Upon returning to the United States and recovering from his injuries, he was assigned to duty on a new aircraft carrier.

While serving on the Lexington, he took part in attacks on Lae, Salamaua, and Tulagi in the early stages of the war to stem the Japanese advance in the Pacific, and also participated in the noted Bougainville action in which 19 Japanese bombers were shot down, five of them being accounted for by Lieut. "Butch" O'Hare.

Lieut. Dronkers also participated in the recent successful naval attack on the Japanese-held Marcus island, 900 miles from Japan, and less than 1,200 miles from Tokyo. This attack resulted in the destruction of all planes and military installations of that Japanese island base.

In addition to the Purple Heart, he holds medals for expeditionary duty in Mexico, World War I medal, Asiatic medal for duty in southwest Pacific in the present war with four stars for major engagements, the European medal for duty in the Atlantic war zone, defense medal with star for overseas service, the American medal, and the Meritorious Conduct medal with four citation stars.

Holland Downs Zeeland Eleven By 25 to 0 Count

Hudzik Scores Four Times; He and Kuipers Handle Running Plays

Blasting four touchdowns across the Zeeland goal line and showing a powerful running attack the Holland high school eleven overwhelmed Zeeland high school's team, 25-0, in Riverview park Friday night.

Walt Hudzik smashed across the last white chalk line four times to take scoring honors for the Dutchmen. As in the game against Allegan, Hudzik and Kuipers handled the biggest share of the running plays and did a magnificent job. Substitute quarterback, Eugene Barendse, played a fine game and De Vries and Vandersluijs shone on the line.

The game was all Holland from beginning to end, with the Hollanders scoring the first time they had the ball in their possession, as Benz, Kuipers and Hudzik teamed up to bring the ball down to the one-yard line from where Hudzik smashed over for the first touchdown.

In the third quarter, the Holland team scored after Barendse brought the ball into scoring range on three running plays which netted a total of 34 yards. Hudzik went over.

In the final quarter two blocked kicks set the stage for touchdowns and Hudzik scored both of them from the 8 and 10-yard line. All in all, the Dutchmen blocked four Zeeland punts.

Zeeland could do very little with the Holland running attack and only managed two first downs for the entire game as the rushing Holland line kept the Chick City boys in their own backyard throughout the game. Boys played good ball for Zeeland in the backfield and Den Herder played a fine game at center.

The contest was played in intermittent rainfall and on a very wet field but fumbles were fewer than might be expected with Holland miffing three and Zeeland two with each team recovering their own fumbles.

Refugee Woman Editor To Address Rotarians

Else Margrete Roed who made her escape from Norway last fall will address members of the Rotary club, their wives and guests at a meeting Oct. 14 in the Warm Friend tavern.

Members may invite their wives and other guests to the luncheon at 12:10 p.m. Other persons who are interested in hearing Miss Roed such as those who may have lived in Norway or have relatives there may make arrangements to be present for the lecture at 1 p.m. in the Tulip room. These persons should call L. C. Dalman at 7163. The speaker will be introduced by Hollis Baker, regarded as the most traveled local Rotarian.

Informing that she was scheduled for arrest by the gestapo for her underground activities in Norway, Miss Roed swapped sardines, potatoes and carrots for a second-hand pair of low-heeled shoes and for four days she walked across and over Norway's mountains, sometimes wading streams waist deep until she finally reached Sweden and safety.

Miss Roed was born in Halden, Norway, in 1907. She studied philosophy and literature at Oslo university and later spent four and a half years doing graduate work in Germany, France and England, having studied economics and political science there. She then returned to Norway and became a journalist. She rose to become the editor of the leading woman's magazine in Norway, and held this position until she was forced to flee the country.

Aside from her official work, Miss Roed took an active part in the underground work in Norway. Everything went well and she was able to outwit the gestapo leaders on several occasions. But one day the game was up and the gestapo wanted to arrest her. She lay in hiding in Oslo for a time, but as the search for her continued she finally had to leave her homeland. She arrived in New York on New Year's eve.

Tentative arrangements have been made for Miss Roed to address members and guests of Holland branch, American Association of University Women, at their meeting in the home of Mrs. Warren S. Merriam, the evening of Oct. 14.

Attention of Holland housewives is called to the intensive drive for waste fats which will take place in Holland Oct. 4 to 9. The city's quota is approximately 3,000 pounds per month.

Collection of waste fats in the community is in charge of local Camp Fire girls who are going to do their best to see that this amount is collected each month. They will make a house-to-house canvass for waste fats, but housewives are reminded that if they are missed, they may call the Camp Fire office.

For the past year and a half Camp Fire girls have made an effort to bring in the fats, and the fullest cooperation is urged to help fill the large quota assigned to Holland. Proceeds from the collection will go into War bonds to be used later for the Camp Fire girls' dream, a camp site for the Holland girls. An interested person has offered a cash prize for the first three groups collecting the most fats.

the enemy's just over the hill!

MAYBE I'm your boy—or the boy next door. You know, Mary's sweetheart, Joan's husband, Timmy's daddy. Your son, Father! Your boy, Mother! Anyway, I've got something to say to you. I've got to make you understand.

This is it. This is zero. This is INVASION!

I'm here, with a million other boys just like me. We're your INVASION forces. And we're going to stay. It wasn't easy getting here, and it is going to be a lot harder before we're through.

WE'RE GIVING ALL WE'VE GOT

I said we were going to stay. I promise that, even if it means the thing—well, the thing we don't like to talk about. Because we're giving all we've got: Our minds, our strength, our blood.

But you see, this isn't going to be enough. Not unless those planes we need snarl down out of the sky on the enemy just over there. Unless those tanks get here. Unless the supply ships get through. Unless there are enough bullets for this rifle.

YOU'RE ON THE INVASION FRONT NOW!

It's that extra $100 War Bond, all of them together, making up the $15 billion worth they're asking you to buy in September, that will prove that you are on the INVASION front with him.

Your part is at least one extra $100 Bond during the Drive—at least $100. Of course, that's in addition to your regular bond buying. A $100 Bond is the rock bottom figure. Some of you will have to invest thousands to put this Drive across. Take it out of your pay check—or out of that nest egg you were saving for a rainy day.

All you can spare is too little, all you've got is just going to be enough.

Look at it this way: You won't be giving anything. You will be investing in VICTORY—and your future.

Things like safety for your family and money after the war to buy a new home, or to educate your children.

You're buying a stake in VICTORY—and that means America, yours and mine!

I guess that's all I've got time to tell you now. The enemy is waiting, just over the hill. Don't keep us waiting for you!

World's Safest Investments
